

Animal Husbandry - Intern Position Open

At Turtle Island Preserve living history farm and small alternative community.

Position: to manage as primary caregiver to farm animals. Feed and care for horses, mules, dairy goats, chickens, ducks, trout, cats and dogs.

There is a broad diversity of experience involved in this position. No previous experience is required but general knowledge of animals is a great pre-requisite.

Sample examples of activities: Milking goats, trimming feet and making cheese and yogurt. Cleaning stalls and grooming animals. Attaching harnesses and saddles, managing hay and feed, deworming, training horses and other animals. Monitor fitness and needs of, and teaching visitors how to care for farm animals. Collecting eggs, selling surplus animals, repairing fencing and animal housing.

This is a work study trade - not a paid position. Housing and food are provided. It is a total immersion alternative lifestyle engagement. Proposed involvement is 12-14 months- but we may be flexible to your needs.
